

This pigeons are a genetic wonder. Surely of the best in South Africa. I was very fortunate to become the best I would like to have. In my point of view, the winning gene is out of the Mortimer line, specific his granddaughter 1648. I don't think there is any cock's offspring that produce more winners. I started to concentrate on them only. I was lucky to become a beautiful cock from Kobus Kriel out of his Mortimer blood that he bought direct from Tom Lock. Mr Kriel, then also gave me a hen that was inbred to 1648. After a while I asked a good friend James van de Linde to pick me good offspring out of his 1648 blood. One day he called and said that I must book a courier he want send me a cock. This cock he gave to me as a present. This cocks brother and sister are the parents of winners in ODL in 2022. One of a kind. I mostly built my Tom Lock collection out of these birds.
